

xx/xx/xxxx from Captain CID

Please provide me the names of any children you suspect might be a victim of abuse and the names and contact information of their parents. If you don't have complete information, any information would be helpful.

I sent in names and background information between xx/xx/xxxx and xx/xx/xxxx to Captain CID, Police Chief, Assistant Police Chief

Please provide me with medical records.

I sent in another name to Captain CID, Police Chief, Assistant Police Chief. I shared that sexual abuse, particularly violent sexual attacks, is something that is not even on the radar for most mothers of very young boys and our general health professionals. Though, the therapists familiar with these issues have told me that potty training children are at risk for sexual abuse.

I want to ensure you again that we are committed to giving the parents of children harmed the best possible information so they can properly care for their child. If this investigation reveals enough evidence for additional criminal prosecution, we will present the information to the district attorney's office for prosecution.

xx/xx/xxxx from Detective

Detective xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx informed me that she would be the detective looking over the case. She asked me about information so that she could be prepared when she spoke to people at the church. She was asking about volunteers and how they were kept track of.

I replied back the same day that the year runs from August to August. Volunteers are expected to commit for a year.

xx/xx/xxxx - meeting with Detective

She said that she had looked into the file and that there was also something in the plea deal that might prevent future prosecutions. It seemed like Detective's intent in taking over the case was to bring me some sort of peace in the unknown. I was kind of confused about this, because I don't think that was a police detective's job. She got out a notepad and started to write down goals out of our time together. This was also confusing. If she was not able to pursue prosecutions, why would she be writing down goals? I told her that I was concerned about the conduct of the adults in the situation. At this point, she gave a strong defense of Original Detective, stating that she had known him for a long time and that he had integrity, etc. It was very much in line with the defense that Captain CID gave for Original Detective in a prior email. She was interested in names of parents from the class. She said that she could legally demand that information from the church, but wanted me to provide her with information.

xx/xx/xxxx from Detective

If you could send me the names and numbers we discussed the would be great.

xx/xx/xxxx

I replied to Detective with names of people from the class plus contact information from additional people who could get her that information.

xx/xx/xxxx from Detective

The focus at this point is to try and find anyone else that has concerns like you and see if I can glean any new information.

xx/xx/xxxx from Detective

Detective references the plea agreement and states that she does not know if it could be prosecuted due to the plea agreement.

The investigation is closed.
